The Conger Bros., like those of La Fayette, sell, in many cases, be compelled to sell their work horses for money to pay their taxes.

The Herald, of last week, was crowded with cards about "suitable" men for the State Senate vacancy, occasioned by Harlan's resignation.

The people of Boone think the James Boys are their guests. The banks of Columbia were all heavily guarded Wednesday night of last week.

The Firende Guard, of Centraira, expresses great dissatisfaction at the late county convention, and illustrates the whole affair as a sort of Heathen Chinese

The Boone County Democratic Convention met at the Coliseum, Monday, of last week, and nominated the following ticket: Representative, W. R. Whitte; County Court Judge, Hall T. Wright; County Collector, Eli Hodge; Circuit Clerk, W. W. Garth; County Clerk, W. W. Batterton; County Treasurer, R. B. Price; County Assessor, T. Benton Seay; Sheriff, J. M. HOWARD COUNTY.

Fritchett Institute, at Glasgow, has over 100 pupils.

The Glasgow Journal, of September 24, says that Judge E. A. Lewis, was available to fill the vacancy of Judge Adams by Woodson in a day or two, and it is perhaps the best appointment that he has ever made.

About 18 years ago, Adam Hendrix of Howard county, became guardian for the little girls, Cora and Josephine Harrison. He took them to his home in Illinois. Mr. Hendrix educated them and paid all their expenses during the 18 years, at a cost of $24,000, and the other day paid them over $24,000 a piece. That was good management.

The Glasgow Journal, of 13th week of May, contains this weird item: "Mr. Elias Burton, of this place, is putting in 175 acres of wheat. He has 130 acres of wheat from town, has now 150 acres a mile put in, and intends putting in 50 to 60 more miles. Mr. George Bugner, about two miles from this place, is putting in about 150 acres of wheat. Many of our farmers are putting in at least 100 acres this fall."

The Glasgow Journal, of last week of May, contains this item: "John B.

ly, the Forest Green has been the largest and best tobacco in the production of country. Many of the leaves have been used for the manufacture of cigars. The crop this year, which was the best in the history of the country, is estimated to be worth $1,000,000. The tobacco is being sold in the market at a price of 10 cents per pound. The Forest Green is the best tobacco in the country, and is the most valuable of the tobacco crops. It is the only tobacco in the country that is sold in the market at a price of 10 cents per pound. A man named Schottel, will soon open a saloon at Warrensburg, where he will teach both German and English.

The Standard, of last week, reports that a routing lion, or some other ferocious beast was on the rampage in the woods near Blackwater.

Benjamin Franklin, colored, living in Warrensburg, has sold 3000 watermelons this year. For particular news see the Standard.

The Journal is saying a great many foolish things about Mr. Hardis. The people of the Free Nation, as usual, are laughing at the thing into the ground.

After a good deal of bobbing around here Standard, of Warrensburg, has made a lucky leap by getting the late Madison county convention to endorse it.

Sometime ago, the people of Warrensburg being somewhat unwilling to pay certain taxes, appointed a committee to investigate the affairs of the town. The report of the committee was read at a meeting, and were followed up by the appointed resolutions by the citizens' meeting. Resolved: That it is the sense of this meeting, that the town council will have no power to increase the assessment of property, nor to levy more than one half of one per cent. on the value of property, as assessed, as may be necessary to pay the interest on the Normal School debt, and that the people will not pay the same until it be made to conform to the law, both as to the amount of the levy and the assessment, as made by the proper officer. Resolved, That we, the citizens of the town of Wausenburg, do hereby pass all illegal taxes assessed according to law. Resolved, That we, the people of the town of Wausenburg, will resist the collection of any

The Standard of last week has this by item: "On Monday, a Gro. Blackwater, a suspicious-looking sack in some bushes, and taking a shy peep within, as you know, as he would, expecting, perhaps, to find a pot of gold or a clue to the Younger whereabouts, he found the contents to consist two-thirds of a sack of bones, and one-third of three bones, and, as necessary to keep the human structure in cosmic shape. He immediately took possession of the precious pile. Wagt a bag of bones for a boy to bear on his back! Well, he got a bag and brought his prize to town on Tuesday morning. He was a little disappointed to find bones. No clue was found as to who remains there, nor how they got where found. Experts believe them be the bones of a young person near maturity, of about medium size, and the cranial development indicates a low intellect, if not a negro. It has probably been purchased from some city dissection room, as marks of a knife are seen in some places, and was the property of some medical student, who must have dropped the sack in fright, on his way to bury it for cleansing. But this is a guess. The bones were ordered to be buried.
